Obituary

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife who departed this life December 26, 1920.

When the angel brought the message
For my love one to come
None but those who have loss love ones
Can my grief and sorrow know
Oh! how hard I tried to save her
Prayer and tears were all it vain
Happy angel came and took her
From this world of toil and pain
I watched her day by day
Until at last with broken heart
I saw her pass away.

Your cherry ways your smiling face
Are pleasant to recall
You had a kind word for each and died beloved by all
We were happy here together
In my home not l ng ago
And we laughed and talked together
For we loved each other so
Heart of my life is buried deep
Under the sod where my dear wife sleeps
My home is sad and lonely without her smiling face
No one can fill her vacant chair and no one can take her place
And now the circle is broken
And parting though fills me with pain
I hold a glorious token
The bright hope of meeting again.

Loving Husband,
ARTHUR T. BORDGES

"Follow the Market"

is our motto for this year.

If our price on any article is out of line tell us.

It was impossible to keep our prices up to market conditions when goods were advancing, so now it is impossible to be informed of each decline as it takes place.

It is our purpose, however, to give our customers the benefit of any new price that is out, and to purchase good, clean, substantial and sell it to our customers at an honest profit

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset. I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it. . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying All druggists sell it.

Federal Farm Loan

The U. S Supreme Court has declared the Federal Farm Loan Act to be constitutional, and Chairman Lobdell of the Farm Loan Board, says he will offer Farm Loan Bonds for sale at once and after thirty days the farmers who desire to borrow on their farms will be able to get the money on 35 years time.

The interest rate has not been arranged for new loans yet by the Board, but 5½ per cent will do, and we think the Board will try to maintain that rate to the farmers.

Now that all doubt as to the legality of the bonds of the great farmers government bank has been dispelled by the court's dicesion, the farmers will take new hope, and will make a determined drive to advance agriculture once more.

The relief offered by the decision at this time is great, and the farmers should never allow this institution to wane. Under the Senator Glass bill, with slight amendments the Treasury can buy the bonds and make money available for farm loans if the investors get slow about it. This is one of the best bills the Wilson administration has to its credit
